It is hereby informed that the following changes in Ph.D. Admission Process and Timeline may be noted:

- Admission to the Ph.D. program will be conducted through two rounds of online interviews.
- The first round of interviews for eligible and shortlisted candidates is scheduled for 11th and 12th May 2026. Candidates who qualify in the first round will be invited to participate in the second round of interviews.
- Prior to the second round, shortlisted candidates will be provided with details of available laboratories, including the Lab name, Principal Investigator (PI), and research areas for which positions are open. Candidates are required to indicate their laboratory preferences (in order of priority) before appearing for the second round of interviews.
- The second round of interviews will be conducted on 14th and 15th May 2026. Final selection results will be communicated to candidates by 18th or 19th May 2026.
- Candidates selected after the second round will be offered admission to the program and are required to join on or before 15th June 2026.
- NIAB reserves the right to accept or reject any or all applications without assigning any reason whatsoever.
- Depending on the project and/or laboratory, selected students may be provided an opportunity to participate in a field immersion program, similar to that conducted for i3C BRIC-RCB Ph.D. students. For further details, please visit:
